Annual index: vol. 34/2003

Titles:

A comprehensive framework for assessing and selecting appropriate scaffolding based on analytic hierarchy process. Fang, D., Shen, Q., Wu, S., & Liu, G. 34(5), 587–594.

A neglected risky behavior among children and adolescents: underage driving and injury in New South Wales, Australia. Lam, L. T. 34(3), 315–320.

A safety self-management intervention for mining operations. Hickman, J. S., & Geller, E. S. 34(3), 299–308.

A survey-based system for safety measurement and improvement. Carder, B., & Ragan, P. W. 34(2), 157–165.

Adolescent driver risk taking and driver education: evidence of a mobility bias in public policymaking. Hirsh, P. 34(3), 289–298.

Age differences in safety attitudes and safety performance in Hong Kong construction workers. Siu, O-l., Phillips, D. R., & Leung, T-w. 34(2), 199–205.

An empirical investigation of European drivers' self-assessment. Karlaftis, M. G., Kotzampassakis, I., & Kanellaidis, G. 34(2), 207–213.

Analysis of driver injury severity levels at multiple locations using ordered probit models. Abdel-Aty, M. 34(5), 595–601.

Analysis of motor vehicle crashes at stop signs in four cities. Retting, R. A., Weinstein, H. B., & Solomon, M. 34(5), 483–487.

Antecedents of injury among youth in agricultural settings: A longitudinal examination of safety consciousness, dangerous risk taking, and safety knowledge. Westaby, J. D., & Lee, B. L. 34(3), 227–240.

Are pilots at risk of accidents due to fatigue? Goode, J. H. 34(3), 309–313.

Assessment of older drivers: Relationships among on-road errors, medical conditions, and test outcome. DiStefano, M., & Macdonald, W. 34(4), 415–429.

Bridging the gap: Bringing together intentional and unintentional injury prevention efforts to improve health and well being. Cohen, L., Miller, T., Sheppard, M. A., Gordon, E., Gantz, T., & Atnafou, R. 34(5), 483–487.

Case studies of occupational falls from heights: Cognition and behavior in context. Kines, P. 34(3), 263–271.

Causal attributions of Ghanaian industrial workers for accident occurrence: Miners and non-miners perspective. Gyekye, S. A. 34(5), 531–536.

Comparison of young male and female drivers' attitude and self-reported traffic behaviour in Finland in 1978 and 2001. Laapotti, S., Keskinen, E., & Rajalin, S. 34(5), 577–585.

Comprehension and memory for warning symbols: age-related differences and impact of training. Lesch, M. F. 34(5), 493–503.

Deaths in construction related to personnel lifts, 1992–99. McCann, M. 34(5), 505–512.

Deconstructing a gender difference: driving cessation and personal driving history of older women. Hakamies-Blomqvist, & Siren, A. 34(4), 383–388.

Development of an algorithm for an EEG-based driver fatigue countermeasure. Lal, S. K. L., Craig, A., Boord, P., Kirkup, L., & Nguyen, H. 34(3), 321–328.

Differences in relative risks for fatal occupational highway transportation accidents. Janicak, C. A. 34(5), 537–543.

Do the designated drivers of college students stay sober? Timmerman, M. A., Geller, E. S., Glindemann, K. E., & Fournier, A. K. 34(2), 127–133.

Driving and alternatives: Older drivers in Michigan. Kostyniuk, L. P., & Shope, J. T. 34(4), 407–414.

Driving disability and dizziness. Cohen, H. S., Wells, J., Kimball, K. T., & Owsley, C. 34(4), 361–369.

Effect of vehicle and crash factors on older occupants. Austin, R. A., & Faigin, B. M. 34(4), 441–452.

Enhancing the effectiveness of graduated driver licensing legislation. Foss, R., & Goodwin, A. 34(1), 79–84.

Evaluating the impact of passengers on the safety of older drivers. Hing, J. Y. C., Stamatiadis, N., & Aultman-Hall, L. 34(4), 343–351.

Evaluation of a safety training program in three food service companies. Sinclair, R. C., Smith, R., Colligan, M., Prince, M., Nguyen, T., & Stayner, L. 34(5), 545–556.

doi:10.1016/S0022-4375(03)00103-8

Graduated driver licensing and safer driving. McKnight, A. J., & Peck, R. C. 34(1), 85–89.
Graduated driver licensing in the United States: evaluation results from the early programs. Shope, J. T., & Molnar, L. J. 34(1), 63–69.
Graduated driver licensing: the New Zealand experience. Begg, D., & Stephenson, S. 34(1), 99–105.
How well do parents manage young driver crash risks? Simons-Morton, B. G., & Hartos, J. L. 34(1), 91–97.
Impact of impulsiveness, venturesomeness, and empathy on driving by older adults. Owsley C., McGwin, G. Jr., & McNeal, S. F. 34(4), 353–359.
Improving older driver knowledge and self-awareness through self-assessment: The driving decisions workbook. Eby, D. W., Molnar, L. J., Shope, J. T., Vivoda, J. M., & Fordyce, T. A. 34(4), 371–381.
Is there a link between children's motor abilities and unintentional injuries? Schwebel, D. C., Binder, S. C., Sales, J. M., & Plumert, J. M. 34(2), 135–141.
Logging injuries for a 10-year period in Jilin Province of the People's Republic of China. Wang, J., Bell, J. L., & Grushecky, S. T. 34(3), 273–279.
Management practices as antecedents of safety culture within the trucking industry: similarities and differences by hierarchical level. Arboleda, A., Morrow, P. C., Crum, M. R., & Shelley, M. C. II. 34(2), 189–197.
MaryPODS revisited: Updated crash analysis and implications for screening program implementation. Staplin, L., Gish, K. W., & Wagner, E. K. 34(4), 389–397.
Mental models of safety: do managers and employees see eye to eye? Prussia, G. E., Brown, K. A., & Willis, P. G. 34(2), 143–156.
New Zealand drivers study: Developing a methodology for conducting a follow-up study of newly licensed drivers (Work in Progress). Begg, D., Brookland, R., Hope, J., Langley, J., & Broughton, J. 34(3), 329–336.
Occupational electrical injuries in the United States, 1992–1998, and recommendations for safety research. Cawley, J. C., & Homce, G. T. 34(3), 241–248.
Older women drivers: Fatal crashes in good conditions. Baker, T. K., Falb, T., Voas, R., & Lacey, J. 34(4), 399–405.
On-road driving evaluations: a potential tool for helping older adults drive safely longer. Stutts, J. C., & Wilkins, J. W. 34(4), 431–439.
Other high-risk factors for young drivers – how graduated licensing does, doesn't, or could address them. Ferfuson, S. A. 34(1), 71–77.
Preventing collisions involving surface mining equipment: A GPS-based approach. Ruff, T. M., Holden, T. P. 34(2), 175–181.
Provisional license. Preusser, D. F., & Leaf, W. A. 34(1), 45–49.
Responsibility of drivers, by age and gender, for motor vehicle crash deaths. Williams, A. 34(5), 525–529.
Risk-mitigating beliefs, risk estimates, and self-reported speeding in a sample of Australian drivers. Brown, S. L., & Cotton, A. 34(2), 183–188.
Risky, aggressive, or emotional driving: addressing the need for consistent communication in research. Dula, C. S., & Geller, E. S. 34(5), 557–564.
Safety with access scaffolds: development of a prototype decision aid based on accident analysis. Whitaker, S. M., Graves, R. J., James, M., & McCann, P. 34(3), 249–261.
Technology use and psychosocial factors in the self-reporting of musculoskeletal disorder symptoms in call center workers. Halford, V., Cohen, H. H. 34(2), 167–173.
Teenage drivers: patterns of risk. Williams, A. 34(1), 5–15.
The 2001 national household travel survey: a look into the travel patterns of older Americans (Special Report: New Statistical Data Source). Collia, D. V., Sharp, J., & Giesbrecht, L. 34(4), 461–470.
The compelling case for graduated licensing. William, A. 34(1), 3–4.
The concept of degraded images applied to hazard recognition training in mining for reduction of lost-time injuries. Kowalski-Trakofler, K. M., & Barrett, E. A. 34(5), 513–523.
The evolution and effectiveness of graduated licensing. Simpson, H. B. 34(1), 25–34.
The genesis of GDL. Waller, P. 34(1), 17–23.
The 'goldilocks model' of overtime in construction: not too much, not too little, but just right. Goldenhar, L. M., Hacker, S., Moir, S., & Rosecrance, J. 34(2), 215–226.
The learner's permit. Mayhew, D. R. 34(1), 35–43
The provisional license: Nighttime and passenger restrictions – a literature review. Lin, M. L., & Fearn, K. T. 34(1), 51–61.
The transtheoretical model of change in adolescents: implications for injury prevention. Kidd, P., Reed, D., Weaver, L., Westneat, S., & Rayens, M. K. 34(3), 281–288.
The use of supervisory practices as leverage to improve safety behavior: a cross-level intervention model. Zohar, D., & Luria, G. 34(5), 565–575.

Using a driving simulator to identify older drivers at inflated risk of motor vehicle crashes. Lee, H. C., Lee, A. H., Cameron, D., & Li-Tsang, C. 34(4), 453–459.
Views of U.S. drivers about driving safety. Williams, A. F. 34(5), 489–492.
What we know, what we don't know, and what we need to know about graduated driver licensing. Hedlund, J., Shults, R. A., & Compton, R. 34(1), 107–115
